Nineteen Bodies Recovered From Ruins Of Planes

Worst Plane Disaster In Aviation History In South America Takes Heavy Toll

PLANES IN CRASH OVER AN AIRPORT

Several Noted Passengers Are Included In List Of Collision Victims

(International News Service)
MEDELLIN, Colombia, June 25.—Nineteen bodies have been recovered from the wreckage of the two airplanes that collided over the local airport yesterday in South America's worst aviation catastrophe, police said today.

Henry Swartz, of Philadelphia, Bogota representative of Universal Pictures and Lester W. Straus, New York mixing man were among the dead, while all South America mourned the loss of Carlos Gardel, singing and dancing Argentine film star and Ernesto Samper, famous airman who was educated in the United States.

Grant Flynn of New York, newly arrived traffic manager of the Saco Airplane Corporation, was badly burned and four others were hurt.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Mrs. Emma Bowerox, of 15 North Lee avenue, reported Young Pa New today that she has a number of ripe tomatoes in her garden.

Following the protracted rainy weather, the lawn-mower brigade was in full swing last night and today. Hundreds of lawns were in need of attention. Weeds especially seemed to thrive on the wet weather.

The rose bushes along the stone walls of the Hoyt properties on the north hill are beginning to bloom. When in full bloom, these bushes provide a spectacle of great beauty.

With all the rain that has fallen, shrubs and trees have shown a luxuriant growth. At the corner of Moody and Mercer streets it has been suggested to Pa New that a little trimming would not hurt the appearance of the shrubbery and trees and would aid motorists in crossing the intersection.

A large bus bound from Chicago to New York passed through New Castle last night. The bus was filled with colored folk who will be at the Louis-Carnegie bout in New York tonight. Around town to some people the scrap seemed to be the most important topic of the day.

Pedestrians as well as motorists are grateful for the paving improvements on the public square. It was always the person afoot that received the splash when cars went through the water-filled pools before. And Pa New knows several pedestrians who are rejoicing.

An incident occurred on the Diamond yesterday afternoon which just shows that you should never go

Police Department Cleanup At St. Paul

(International News Service)
ST. PAUL, Minn., June 25.—St. Paul was without a chief of police today while four other officers were under suspension and four more faced ouster in the wake of a sensational cleanup of an alleged alliance between police and the underworld.

Climaxing months of intensive investigation, safety commissioner H. E. Warren suspended chief of police Michael Culligan and four other officers, including Charles Tierney, inspector of detectives; Thomas Dahill, assistant inspector of detectives and former chief of police; John J. McGowan, chauffeur, and Patrick Ridge, patrolman.

Surprising Evidence
In a letter to Mayor Mark Gehan, Warren declared there has been uncovered "surprising evidence of police ownership of slot machines" and "a sensational and illicit connection between police and criminal lawbreakers." Approximately 400 phonographic records were made, furnished more than 3,000 pages of typewritten evidence taken from tapped-wire telephone conversations.

Other dismissals and suspensions were promised in the shakeup. The four whose resignations were demanded announced they would fight instead of quit.

Defense Starts For Kinsmen Of Joseph J. Bruno

Seek To Prove That Mob Was Bent On Violence To Bruno Brothers

(International News Service)
POTSDHAM, Pa., June 25.—Defense counsel for six kinsmen standing joint trial for the Kelayres election eve massacre today endeavored to convince the jury the "so-called Democratic victory parade" was actually a "mob bent on violence against the Brunos."

With a parade of witnesses, the defense hammered away at this point by testimony from persons who either heard threats against the Brunos or saw the "enraged mob" moving on the home of Joseph J. Bruno, former Kline township political leader, with sticks and stones in their hands.

In a surprise move, chief of defense attorneys H. O. Bechtel placed on the stand James Sabatella, brother of a commonwealth witness who accused Joseph and Philip Bruno of threatening to "get the Democrats, one by one."

Sabatella quoted John Macalose, a Democratic leader, as saying at a rally which preceded the shooting: "This is our time to get them. Tomorrow as soon as Joe Bruno comes into the poll to vote, I want all you people to help the constable to drag him out. He gets $8 a day as a county detective and that's no place for him."

School Board Must Provide Full Salaries

Confronted With Necessity Of Raising $120,000 Additional For Year

TEACHERS MUST BE PAID FULL SCHEDULE

Legislature Fails To Enact Relief Measure, Hazen Informs Board

Out of the welter of legislation that passed the General Assembly in the recent protracted session has come the answer to the plea of such school boards as New Castle for relief. The answer is that for the coming school year New Castle will have to pay $120,000 more than is set up in the budget, with the hope that after August, 1936, there will be some relief in the way of additional teacher subsidies, providing the graded income tax law is held to be constitutional.

At the special meeting of the school board Monday night Director Roy W. Hazen made a report of the school legislation and his report was tinged with disappointment at the display of lobbying on the floor of the house by the educators, and at the refusal of the legislators to help the school districts.

Mr. Hazen opened his report to the school board by saying, "There were no salary reduction laws passed in the recent session. This means that we will have to pay the full Edmunds Act salary schedule to teachers in the New Castle schools."

Lobbyists Too Much
"When the bill was first introduced permitting reductions in the districts," Superintendent James R. Rule first advocated it strongly, and then for some unknown reason changed his mind and opposed it. I want to say that we received the heartiest kind of support from Assemblyman James B. Kelso and Senator A. S. Batchelor in our effort to get a reduction. However, the Educational Committee of the House was loaded with teachers and there was strong lobbying by them. The lobbyists were too much for us.

"When the matter was in the legislative mill we presented ourselves to Dr. Ade, the new superintendent. He said he knew little about the whole thing and referred us to Mr. Crosby. He said we were to have MERIDIAN, Miss., June 25.—Safely past the 500 hour mark at 8:32 a. m. If all goes well, the Key brothers will equal the present record set on July 4, 1930, by Kenneth and John Hunter of Chicago at 13 minutes past 1 p. m. on Thursday. To set a new record they must remain aloft at least one hour beyond the present mark of 553 hours, 41 minutes and 30 seconds.

Find Man's Body In Ohio River

Crime Mystery Is Presented By Discovery Near McKees Rocks, Is Belief

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 25.—A quarrel, robbery and then possibly a murder was envisioned by police here today as they sought to establish the identity of a man whose body was pulled from the Ohio river near McKees Rocks bridge. Around the neck of the man whose trousers were tied at the ankles and filled with stones was a piece of heavy drapery. The coroner said death resulted from drowning. But a slight laceration on the victim's ear indicated he may have been slugged before his unconscious form landed in the river.

His suit bore a tag of the New Process Woolen Mills, Warren, Pa., and on the cover of a notebook in his coat pocket was the name of A. Wycoff & Sons Company, Elmira, N. Y. His trousers yielded a bronze medal issued to members of the 1927 bowling league of the Carnegie Library club of Homestead.

President Shifts "Share-The-Wealth" Move To Congress

International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, June 25.—Again demonstrating his aptitude for shrewd and dramatic political timing, President Roosevelt today had definitely shifted to congress the responsibility for enacting a far-reaching tax-the-rich program. Many of the hot and weary legislators were not overjoyed at the prospect but it was considered unlikely any appreciable number will dare vote "no" if a final roll call is obtained. Administration spokesmen are pounding it home that the issue of redistributing wealth—particularly when backed by the President of the United States—is a dangerous one to buck.

The president was in the position of having answered his critics who charged he had proposed inheritance, gift, big income, and corporation taxes without idea of action at this session but solely to furnish

Council And School Board Are Baffled On Treasurer's Salary

Measures Passed By State Legislature Difficult To Interpret

CONFERENCE HELD WITHOUT RESULT

No joint action upon the salary of the city treasurer was possible by the New Castle School Board and City Council Monday night for the reason that a recent act of the General Assembly has so tossed the question into the air that nobody knows just what must be done.

A joint meeting had been called for the board and council at which time the salary of the city treasurer was to be set. Solicitor William J. Moffatt had a copy of the recent bill which provides for the city treasurer collecting the county taxes in the city and which upsets the previous bill to some extent.

Under the new act school board, the city and the county commissioners must act jointly in the matter of setting the salary and expenses, and each body has one vote. Previous the board and council had had five votes each.

Under the new act the county commissioners, the board and the council each pay one third of the salary, the city pays all the expenses of providing light, heat, quarters and janitor service, and the three bodies split the expense of stationery, stamps, and other office expenses.

Administration Abandons Plan For Legislation At Present Session

COURT DECISION OCCASIONS DELAY

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, June 25.—The administration has abandoned its plans to enact a new permanent NRA at this session of congress it was authoritatively stated today. After weeks of study, the legal experts are said to have failed to find a way to circumvent the supreme court decision which knocked out all NRA codes, as unconstitutional.

The decision is subject to reversal only if the session of congress is prolonged into the fall months and a satisfactory legal plan should be found. In the meantime the administration will center its efforts on maintaining principles of the old NRA codes through voluntary agreements with industry.

The new skeletonized NRA, set up until April 1, will furnish the information that will be used when the legal experts are convinced a "real NRA" can be made constitutional.

Insist NRA Can Be Created
Many new dealers still insist a permanent NRA can be created despite the supreme court decision. Their proposals have included enactment of the old codes into laws to avoid the pitfall of illegal delegation.

Open Revolt On President's Demand For Action Yet This Week

PROBLEM TOO BIG FOR HASTY ACTION

Leaders Are Amazed At Requests For Jamming Measure Through At Once

By EDWARD E. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Open revolt broke out today among Democrats in both branches of Congress against any efforts to jam the Roosevelt tax-on-wealth program through this week. While there was little opposition expressed to the president in taxing large personal fortunes and big corporate incomes, there was outspoken resentment against any attempt to rush the program through. As a result, the leaders agreed that it could not be done by Saturday night.

Rumblings Of Discord
The rumblings of discord began to appear as soon as Congress assembled and amazed members read in the newspapers that it had been agreed at the White House conference yesterday evening to try to push the tax bill through in the short space of five days.

When the House convened, the temper of the rank and file quickly became apparent. Rep. Woodrum (D) Virginia, a steady supporter of administration policies, expressed amazement on the floor that it was seriously contemplated to dispose of such a far-reaching tax measure by Saturday night.

"Who are the leaders that are going to do this?"

Mrs. Cliff, the affidavit asserts, was promised by the impostor that she would be freed as soon as Mrs. Coo had paid the supreme penalty. Mrs. Cliff is serving 20 years for the slaying.

FIRST VIOLENCE IN BAKERY STRIKE

Bomb Exploded At Cleveland, O.

No Explanation For Bomb Outrage Near Baking Plant Today

SEEK TO SETTLE BAKERY TIE-UP

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, O., June 25.—First violence in the bakery drivers' union dispute with Cleveland bakeries occurred today when a bomb exploded near the French Baking Co. plant, in which 25 persons were working, shattering windows in the bakery and neighboring buildings and demolishing a fence 20 feet from the property.

No one was injured. Police said the blast was caused by a dynamite bomb probably thrown from a passing automobile.

The explosion came shortly after A. L. Paulkner, department of labor conciliator had arranged a meeting with representatives of the union, and affiliates of the teamsters district council, in an effort to settle the dispute which has resulted in 21 of the major bakeries in the city closing their doors.

M. B. Meyer, manager of the bombed bakery, said the plant was fully unionized and had had no labor difficulty.

tion of power. But most of the administration's legal experts, however, are said to have informed President Roosevelt that a permanent NRA can be made constitutional only through a constitutional amendment.

The Wagner-Connelly labor relations and the Guffey-Snyder coal bills are relied upon to meet, in part, the situation caused by the court's blocking of NRA.

The labor relations bill, now in conference, is expected to be written into law this week. The measure makes a permanent body of the labor relations system set up under the defunct NRA and outlaws company-dominated unions.

The coal bill, setting up a "little NRA" to control the bituminous coal industry, may furnish the basis for another supreme court test of the new deal. If this measure survives the court, say some of the government's legal experts, then principles of NRA can be written into law for many industries.

himself with a 1936 campaign issue. He now has requested adoption of his program—and by Saturday night when the existing special sales taxes expire if humanly possible.

To Interject Issues
Opponents of the wealth-taxes may interject some highly controversial collateral issues, such as bonus and tariff taxes, and thereby delay or ultimately block a portion of the white house proposal. But Mr. Roosevelt stands ready to point an accusing finger at them.

Washington observers look upon the past 24 hours as the capstone of the president's campaign to harass the monied interests, which have been opposing the objectives of his administration both openly and under cover. Pressure for adoption of the Public Utilities Holding Company control bill has served as a prior scourge, along with the New Deal banking bill.

In any event, the chief executive had re-arranged his summer plans so as to be here as long as congress sits. His idea of visiting the San Diego Exposition in mid-July and then returning leisurely to the capital by the Panama Canal has gone by the board.

a meeting with the senate committee but the meeting never occurred. Several bills were in the mill and I don't know what happened to some of them. The Ziesenheim bill pegged the budget but it was not supposed to come out of committee. It did. Maybe it was passed. I don't know, and nobody else seemed to know.

"As to the provisions of the bill giving subsidies to schools, I can't tell you just what it was in final passage. If it passed in the shape it is here (showing the bill), then we will get the $900 subsidy for each teacher beginning August 1, 1936.

Conflicting Features
However, the bill says we have to base our figures on the budget of 1935 and if we raise it we can't get the subsidy. At the same time we will have to raise it $120,000 to care for the Edmonds Act schedules of salaries. It means at least two mills in taxes.

"The administration and the educational bodies defeated the salary reduction bills. The teachers tenure bill was supposed to pass but nobody seems to know if it did. If it did then we'll have tenure on our hands.

"A further study will be made into the situation to ascertain just where the schools stand. In the meantime the budget will probably be revised to meet the additional moneys necessary, and the probabilities are that a loan will have to be floated.

"Either that," said Mr. Hazen or we can do what was suggested in Harrisburg, "pay out the money we have in our budget and then when that runs out, tell the department of Public Instruction to take the schools over and operate them."

"It won't be passed by the end of this week," interjected Rep. "Con" (D) New York, chairman of the rules committee.

Proposal Asinine
"The proposal to pass this program in five days is asinine," shouted Woodrum.

Draw Up Measures
Washington, June 25.—Senate leaders, apparently unmindful of the revolt in the House over President Roosevelt's drive to force his new tax proposals through Congress before Saturday night, proceeded today to draw up tentative new tax schedules designed to return about $340,000,000 yearly to the federal government.

They planned to attach the new schedules to the pending resolution to extend emergency taxes which would otherwise expire June 30. If the resolution and the amendments embracing the Roosevelt program do not pass by Saturday night, the government will lose $1,500,000 a day.

The tentative program calls for the drafting of three amendments to the emergency tax resolution.

They will impose:

1.—A graduated income tax on corporation profits.

2.—Higher taxes on incomes above a million dollars yearly.

3.—Inheritance taxes on large fortunes, with a protective gift tax.

In corporation profits, according to preliminary schedules, a tax of ten per cent will be imposed on all corporate net income beginning at $20,000.

From this figure, the schedules will run upward to a 16 1/2 per cent tax on all corporate net income of $20,000,000.

For net income above a million dollars, the taxes will begin with a 60 per cent levy on the first bracket. This will run to 80 per cent on all incomes of $10,000,000 or more.

On the proposed inheritance schedules, the new taxes will begin with $305,000 inheritances, where an inheritance tax of about one per cent will be added to the present burdens. This will be protected by an increased gift tax.

No open hearings will be held by the Senate finance committee in putting the share-the-wealth amendments through, the chairman said.

State Has 900,000 Single Men Now

Records Show About 700,000 Unmarried Women Over 15 Years Of Age

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, June 25.—Dan Cupid got back into full stride last year in Pennsylvania, the department of health reported today.

Vital statistics records showed that 78,000 marriage licenses were issued throughout the commonwealth, more than during any other year since records have been kept with the single exception of 1920.

The figure was in sharp contrast for 1931 and 1932 when marriage licenses issued dropped to an all-time low. Commenting on the change, Secretary Edith MacBride-Dexter said:

"I am convinced that the change is due to an improvement in economic conditions. I know of no more significant index of the state of hope and despair among the people than the marriage rate."

Considerable work remains for cupid, however. Census figures show that 900,000 men and 700,000 women over 15 years of age living in Pennsylvania are still single.

Steaks Cheap In Homestead

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 25.—You could buy a steak for 15 cents in Homestead today.

And it was cheaper to bake bread or cake than buy it, because flour was down 10 cents a sack, sugar 12 cents.

Nobody was going out of business—just yet. It was a price war between independents and chain food stores.

off the ground, a sudden freak gust of wind threw them together, locking their wing-tips and they crashed violently in flames.

Everybody in the Scatda was killed, but five managed to escape from the Saco.

Gardel, with a troupe of six guitar players, was on his way in the Scatda plane for an engagement at Oah, where thousands of admirers were waiting to cheer him at the airport. Swartz, Straus, pilot Hans Thom, a German, and two mechanics were others on the same plane.

Samper was pilot of the Saco and co-pilot William Foster was another victim. Identification of the bodies was uncertain, but the remaining victims are believed all to have been South Americans.

Gardel, enthusiastically received on the tour he was completing as a "second Valentino" was considered largely responsible for the worldwide popularity of the Argentine tango.

Samper was educated in Massachussetts, and married Miss Gidays Harrisgood of New York. For a time they lived in Boston, but Samper lost his $1,000,000 inheritance in the stock market crash, and went back to Colombia as a director of the Saco airline, which he helped organize.

Tom Thumb Wedding Is Witnessed By Huge Crowd

Before an audience of 2500 people, which packed the East lodge room of the Cathedral, Monday evening, a Tom Thumb wedding was presented twice, under the auspices of New Castle chapter 105, O. E. S., of which Mrs. Grace W. Crawford, is worthy matron, providing a delightful evening's entertainment.

Standing room even was at a premium, and great credit for the success of the affair is due Mrs. Margaret Whieldon, who was general chairman, Mrs. Kathryn Nesle Allen, both of whom worked untiringly in training the eighty some children who took part, together with others who aided: Mesdames Ruth Boyd, Carolyn Lindsley, Nevada McComb, Doris Sankey, Cynthia Speer, Flossie Weller, Elsie Wetmore, Anna Melvin, Celia Go-well, Mary Buzard, Idylne Wimer, Gertrude Fink, Sara Clark, Pearl Harlan, Betty Mauerman, Emma Walter.

The principle parts were taken by children of Eastern Star members and a few of their little friends, some 80 to 85 in number. Miss June Chapter, the bride, was represented by wee Donna June Allen; groom, Johnny Brinton; matron of honor, Edith Dufford; bridesmaids, Mary Alice Fells, Patricia Furringer, Jane McGowan, Phyllis Boyd; father of the bride, Donald Waters; best man, Lee McComb; flower girls, Marcelyn Ann Burkholder, Beverly White, Ruth Prosser, Judith Leonardson; head ushers, Jay Melvin, Tom Pierce; ushers, Jimmy Cox, LeRoy Preston, Sammy Allen, Freddie Steinbrink, Charles Sankay, Jr., was the officiating clergyman.

A distinguished guest list, which was comprised of active and past worthy matrons and patrons of the chapters, with their husbands or wives. The children represented Mr. and Mrs. Carmi Glover, Mrs.

Mary McBride Beisel, Dr. and Mrs. John Foster, Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Cooper, Mrs. Myra P. Eckles, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pinkerton, Miss Pearl Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Bernhart, Miss Mollie Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lindsley, Miss Martha Bigley, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Melvin, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert French, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Young, Mrs. Flora De Vassie, Mrs. Jean Henley, Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Round, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Geary, Miss Gertrude Potter, Miss Bessie Durant, Thomas Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Louis McClung, Mrs. Grace W. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jackson, Miss Lois Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Otville Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goodwin, Mrs. R. Chapter (mother of the bride).

These parts were taken by Sally Boyd, Robert England, Barbara Henry, Martha Critchlow, Bobby Henry, Janet Everett, Bobby Reed, Mary Wagner, Susan Virtue, Allan Ingals, Monna Lou Owens, Lou Wallace, Peggy Smith, Bobby Jean Ramsey, Marston Russell, Homer Matthews, Bert Aubel, Harriet Brinton, Jimmy Carson, Barbara Turner, Jackie Ellsworth, Betty Funkhouser, Mary Eagleson, Dorothy Bradford, Carolyn Anderson, Dickie Pitzer, Suzanne Elder, Jimmy Aubel, Jane Turner, Margaret Grant, Dickie Cole, Peggy McGill, Kenneth Kerr, Pauline Williams, Evelyn Blank, Bobbie Aubel, Joanne Trav-ers, Jeanne Culliford, Bruce Brown, Donna Lowman, John Brindle, Arlene Black, Paul Weller, Jeanne Fogarty, Marcia Bollard, Donald Michael.

Dressed fashionably in long gowns (many backless to the waist), and elegantly coiffured, with shoulder bouquets of gay flowers, long white gloves, and long hair, the ladies tripped up the aisle on the arms of the ushers followed by the men in black dress suits, and the conventional boutonnières.

After they were seated, the bridal party appeared, all "ducky" in pastel hued costumes and large brimmed hats. The men in the party were in black swallow tail coats, as fitted the dignified occasion. The bride came in on the arm of her "father," dimpled and dashing in a long white net dress, with long veil, falling from a shirred cap. She carried a bouquet of white roses. The service was spoken clearly and distinctly, by the minister, the tiny couple sealing their troth with a baby kiss, amid rounds of applause from the big audience.

After the bridal party filed out, the assemblage was invited to the dining room for refreshments, the room being cleared, meanwhile for the second performance which proved equally interesting.

VETERAN RELIEVED OF CONSTIPATION* BY NATURAL FOOD

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Corrects His Condition

Here is an interesting, unsolicited letter: "I have used Kellogg's ALL-BRAN for about 4 years, and find it a wonderful relief for constipation. * While in Government Service in the P. I. I contracted constipation" in 1898-99.

"I consider your ALL-BRAN in terms of millions, instead of the cost of a box of pills, for it surely has saved me. I eat ALL-BRAN every morning."—F. L. Wylie, Visalia, Calif.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals.

Research shows Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies gentle "bulk" to aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN is also rich in vitamin B and iron.

ALL-BRAN is a delicious laxative food... far better than patent medicines. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

THE MONTH OF DEBT DEFAULTS

JUNE has been defaulting debtors' month so far as the United States and Europe are concerned. All of them but honest little Finland have run out on us. This includes Great Britain, which has been boasting of her balanced budget, and such nations as Italy and Czechoslovakia, who seem to have plenty of money and credit for other purposes but nothing with which to pay Uncle Sam.

We have heard a lot of big talk recently about what Italy is going to do to Ethiopia, when it quits raining there in October. Well, maybe she will, and maybe she won't. But this does not alter the fact that Italy is spending millions on war-like preparations against the African nation, sending troops across the Mediterranean, building fortifications and doing other things which cost a lot of money.

Yet Italy tells us that she can't afford to pay on what she owes the United States at this time. She can't even afford to pay the installment of the debt falling due now, although this is but a fraction of what her African venture has already cost her, and she is not able to pay anything on the old account, which is growing every month. She hopes, of course, there will be a downward adjustment if not outright cancellation, but evidently is not aware of the fact that spending money for military adventures in Africa is not apt to put Uncle Sam in a good mood for debt-reducing.

Czechoslovakia is another nation which has been in the limelight quite a little late. She has defaulted too, along with the rest, and says that conditions have not changed so that she can pay anything. Yet the Czechs have gone into a military alliance with Russia, which is none of our business, and at the same time, to bind the agreement have extended to Russia a credit for thirty millions of dollars to be spent by Russia for munitions.

Other nations which owe Uncle Sam are preparing feverishly for war, too. Yet they can't pay anything on account. They are willing to sell to us or to borrow more, but not to pay what they owe us.

BY WAY OF CONTRAST

The contrast between the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann at Flemington and the hearing of his appeal before the court of errors and appeals was so striking that it caused considerable comment. The trial in which Hauptmann was convicted of the kidnapping and murder of the Lindbergh baby was a bedlam of confusion. Crowds of spectators milled about the doors of the little courthouse, hoping for an opportunity to get inside or at least get a view of some of the principals in the case. The holiday spirit, mixed with a feeling of anger which had existed since the popular flyer's son was abducted, pervaded in the throng. It made good "copy" for the newspapers and the accounts were read avidly in all parts of the country. It was the "trial of the century," but it was not an exhibition of dignified justice.

When the attorneys for Hauptmann fought for his life before the court of errors and appeals, the procedure was in keeping with the seriousness of the occasion. There was a calm dignity of a high court weighing the arguments in a methodical manner without interruption by curious and entertainment-seeking crowds. The defendant and witnesses were not present at the appeal hearing, of course, and that detracted from the "color" which enlivened the trial. Americans have a habit of emphasizing the theatrical aspects of a sensational murder trial, but it would be more fitting if they would permit such trials to proceed in the cool, detached and solemn manner that is appropriate to the administration of justice.

IT'S MEAN, ALL RIGHT

Any amateur student of meteorological matters will sooner or later come face to face with the term "mean temperature" and wonder what it means. In a hazy sort of way he will gather that it has something to do with the average temperature readings over a given period, and wonder why the weather sharks don't call it "average" and let it go at that.

Now we have been permitted to understand what it's all about. The month of June had a near-record rainfall and one of the lowest temperatures of many a spring. It was a mean spring month. Last year at about the same time some of the June days came near to breaking the high record. They were mean days too. Put two mean things together and the result can be only something mean.

Matters of science and meteorology are simple once you get the hang of them.

NO LONGER A BONNIE PRINCE

At forty-one the Prince of Wales is still an interesting and popular figure, though the charm of his youth has inevitably departed. As a young man he captured all hearts much as Bonnie Prince Charlie did. But his has been a happier lot than that of any of the Stuarts.

From his wide travels he brought back a mature conception of duty, and at home he has studied closely the lives and fortunes of the British people. That he has never married is a disappointment. But this is a detail. No heir to the throne has more faithfully fulfilled the obligations of his position.

THE FORTUNATE ISLAND

It has been taken for granted that the Puerto Ricans desire statehood. Yet the hearings on the bill to that effect have been followed with comparatively little interest by them. They are not half so anxious for home rule as had been supposed.

Here is a dark mystery—or would be but for the fact Puerto Rico in its present status is exempt from the federal income tax. Those who suffer from it in these parts may well feel that there is a fortunate island.

DON'T CONFINE YOURSELF TO ONE FIELD.

Becoming rusty, aren't you, in certain lines in which you formerly had a good working knowledge? The reason is that you avoid doing anything to keep familiar with the work.

It has become hard for you, and so you neglect it. Naturally, with less frequent experience, the more difficult it becomes.

You have begun to doubt your ability to carry on with such work. It is your own fault, for you will not keep in practice.

It is not how many things you learn to do, but how successful you are in retaining a serviceable knowledge of those things you have learned to do.

Keeping yourself in practice takes a little extra time.

It might be a great help to you when your regular employment is interrupted or you lose a job in one line, if you can pick up another.

To be tied to one line of work is a dangerous method in these days.

It helps to be able to adjust yourself to circumstances and fill in with some little accomplishment that you have learned and still can do.

The line you once knew and have forgotten might be your only hope. Keep up your background of knowledge; augment it if you can.

WHAT ABOUT THE "A. B. C.'s"

Uncle Sam pays 989 salaries of $10,000 a year or more, according to a survey of the Securities Commission at Washington.

There are 7,223 government employees whose pay ranges from $5,000 to $10,000. The President's annual salary of $75,000 heads the list. Next comes the salary of the Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, $20,500. The eight Associate Justices get only $5,000 less a year than the chief. The Governor General of the Philippines Islands, Frank Murphy.

The Vice President, Speaker of the House and ten members of the Cabinet, each receive $15,000 a year. Members of Congress, both Senators and Representatives, get $10,000 a year each.

And how much goes out to the officials and retainers of the various Alphabetical Commissions?

Even the Securities Commission might not be able to answer this question.

Weekly Health Talks

UNDERNOURISHMENT

"There is entirely too prevalent a notion that undernourishment is associated only with poverty. As a matter of fact there are many persons who, even in these days, are quite able to purchase as much food and as of varying types as they desire, yet are definitely suffering from malnutrition. This applies to children and adults alike," states Dr. Edith MacBride-Dexter, state secretary of health.

"While of course there are large numbers of families whose food intake is restricted because of their pocketbooks, efforts on a nationwide basis through the past few years have been made to remedy this situation; and a measure of success has resulted. However, with the other type of family, relief agencies and public health officials are completely helpless. The problem resolves itself solely into one of education and reasonable appreciation of food values and eating habits.

"For example, consider that even yet large group of women who, in spite of a returned popularity for natural weight, persist in attempting to attain and maintain an athletic figure by way of drastic and professionally unsupervised diet habits. In following this harmful practice, thousands of persons, young, middle-aged and older reject two very important facts. First, that unless they are of the athletic type they are really attempting to thwart nature in its purpose; and second, that to indulge in any dietary regimen without professional sanction is likely to lead directly to undernourishment with the consequent weakening of one's resistance to disease. In fact, much malnutrition is to be found among this misguided group of persons.

"Again, food habits of many of the so-called 'privileged young' are definitely harmful. Have sufficient spare change in their pockets, they too fondly specialize on ice cream and candy, thus losing their desire for the much needed old reliable body-building and body-sustaining proteins.

"While it is quite unnecessary to possess a dietitian's knowledge on the subject of food and food values, it is essential that every one realizes that the so-called every day foods still occupy their important position in nutritive value.

"Therefore, bread, milk, vegetables, fruits, meat and fish still are the mainstays for the average healthy individual. Fancy foods, while valuable if kept in their proper place, cannot safely be substituted for them.

"In short, balanced meals, which include these standbys offer the best solution to the food problems, not only from the viewpoint of health and the pocketbook, but of malnutrition as well."

Jobs Bring Joy In Indiana.
Event Shows Men Crave Work.
Roosevelt Is Defied.

Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th Street
By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, June 25.—How badly men desire to work for a living is demonstrated by one of the "good news" stories of the day.

An automobile concern announces the reopening of a plant in Evansville, Ind., a city of some 110,000 persons. By Dec. 1, the plant should be running full—and by that time (if business holds up and all is well) 5,000 men will be at work.

To recondition the plant, $1,000,000 will have to be spent.

We read this in the Wall Street Journal. It is first-page news even there.

Then we pick up the Evansville papers.

They look as if all the bells and whistles of the city had sounded. They look as if the people had danced in the streets in joy.

The "end of the depression" (in Evansville) is hailed somewhat as was the end of the war.

MAN'S CRAVE FOR WORK
Some people have been saying that men would become used to relief.

There could hardly be a more cruel and libelous assertion. Men crave for work—the vast group of men.

In work they see achievement, freedom, self-respect.

The day that relief will end will find the men of all cities thrilling with joy.

Then those jobless who have obtained jobs instead of doles will dance (figuratively) with joy in the streets, even as in Evansville now.

WILL HOPES COME TRUE?
But will hopes come true?

Will men be able to earn a living without conflict?

The mass surge of the present age, forcing men on (often against their will), is not likely to end because 5,000 men or even 5,000,000 men obtain jobs.

Those who have wealth and power, and who dispense jobs when there is trade to permit jobs to be dispensed will fight to retain their own foothold or throne. And the men below will continue to surge on, forced on by relentless economic pressure.

"We will be happy and content," men will say, but life is not static or isolated. Even as the waves beat at the jagged rocks wearing them down, so too does the mass of men beat against the force that tries to withstand their ceaseless tides, which like the tides of the ocean are governed by no immediate forces of their own.

SOCIAL CHANGES STOPPED?
Will social changes be stopped? 5,000 men (or 5,000,000 men) obtain jobs and they and their families and their friends dance in the streets with joy?

Will the days that were return? The questions virtually answer themselves.

The very machines the men produce will, in themselves, bring on a social evolution. Widening horizons bring on a new day.

The birth of a new day has its pangs, even as has the birth of a child.

And, as a child cannot be in concept the twin of its parents, neither can the new day born of the old days be other than an evolutionary process.

ROOSEVELT DEFIED
In yesterday's column we inadvertently made it appear that President Roosevelt had turned on his utility holding company bill.

He did permit rewriting to save from death some "good" holding companies.

But, otherwise, he has conducted one of the most fierce fights to save his bill, in the house of representatives, that has been observed in Washington in years.

We read this in headlines: "Roosevelt defied on holding groups. Full house committee approves repeal deleting the 'death sentence' provision. President pushes demand. Insists on retaining clause as utility forces renew attack on the whole bill."

The story behind the scenes is remarkable. Nearly every party leader the president has in the house deserted him. The utility companies had asserted they would.

But the president, when using his entire force of office and personality is a powerful person. Even party leaders could be wiped out by a presidential appeal to the people.

When the history of this session of congress is written it will be a story of senate and house leaders trying to kill the measures they were supposed to be leading.

Their anger, necessarily suppressed before the people, knows no bounds. They would wreck their own chances. Their plan thus has been to delay or to make dissembling amendments.

But the plan has not been quite successful.

MacDonald May Pay U. S. Visit

Administration Not Interested In MacDonald As Visitor At This Time

INVITATION MAY NOT BE EXTENDED

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, June 25.—The state department was puzzled today by the persistence of rumors from London that J. Ramsay MacDonald, lord president of the council in the British government, plans to pay a good-will visit to the United States.

Two factors were particularly puzzling to officials here. First, the presidency of the rumors, leading to the belief MacDonald might be nibbling for an invitation from President Roosevelt. Secondly, why the British government should want to send MacDonald or anyone else on a good-will mission to this country at the present time.

No Encouragement
No overtures have been made by Britain through diplomatic channels concerning the possibility of a MacDonald visit, but the fact rumors of such a visit have cropped up in the British press two or three times within ten days had led to suspicion that some authoritative quarter may be inspiring them.

If the British actually are hinting for an invitation, indications here are they will be disappointed unless they request it outright. There is no disposition on the part of this government at the present time to encourage another good-will visit by MacDonald. In fact, there is some question as to whether MacDonald would be a candidate for a good-will mission if the latter was considered mutually desirable.

LABOR PROTESTS TO PRESIDENT

Asks Protection Of Federal Troops In Strike Situation At Tacoma

(International News Service)
TACOMA, Wash., June 25.—Appeal to President Roosevelt "to extend protection of federal troops" against lawless and irresponsible activities of state and national guard troops" in Tacoma's lumber strike was made today by representatives of all Tacoma unions.

The Tacoma Central Labor council also sent a biting telegram of protest to Gov. Clarence Martin against placing troops and state police in this "law abiding community."

Fears of a general strike in Tacoma was felt today. Although responsible executives of the Tacoma central labor council refused to comment on this report.

Five thousand persons lined streets here yesterday when strike breaking workers started back to their homes under protection of national guardsmen. Pickets and sympathizers, booed the workers. Twelve men and one woman were arrested after incipient street battles in which state police used tear gas to disperse the crowds.

The national guard and state police maintained a vigilant patrol of lumber mills here today.

Two Are Killed
Eureka, Cal., June 25.—Death toll of Friday's bloody riot between lumber mill strikers and police here was increased to two today with the death of Harold Edlund, 35.

Police redoubled their vigilant patrol of lumber mills apparently anticipating fresh outbreaks.

If the young suffer in silence, it's because they are afraid somebody will make them have the thing pulled.

Shorten Jail Trip For Young Couple 'Riding The Rails'

Husband And Wife, Both 25, With Dogs, Taken Off B. & O. Freight

Two young chow dogs which had "ridden the rails" from California with their master and mistress today saved the couple and a companion and a stranger from a longer stay at the county jail.

In a B. & O. boxcar at New Castle junction last night two road patrolmen found the couple, Mr. and Mrs. John Carroll, each aged 25, and James Warren, 37 and John Hall, 40. With the four were the two sleepy chows.

"We're heading for Brooklyn, and trying to get there as best we can," the Carrolls explained when taken before Alderman Wallace J. Ewing. At Youngstown yesterday they had faced a municipal judge, and were discharged.

Mrs. Carroll was attired in men's clothing.

After warning them to keep "off the rails," Alderman Ewing sent the four "on the hill" for two days to rest and refresh them for their journey to Brooklyn, N. Y.

The group discovered at the junction last night by Patrolmen John Dickerson and A. E. Lowers, claimed the two dogs have been at their side all the way from California.

The dogs trotted to jail with the couple.

Release Water From Pymatuning

Special To The News
HARRISBURG, June 25 — To maintain a water flow in the Shenango river, 70,000,000 gallons per day, water recently was released from the Pymatuning reservoir in Crawford county, Charles E. Ryder, chief engineer of the Department of Forests and Waters announced today.

Sufficient water will be released each day until October or November, when the flow will again become normal. At this time 20,000,000 gallons are being released daily.

Prior to the construction of the Pymatuning dam and reservoir, the water flow at Sharon and at other points in the valley became as low as 10,000,000 gallons per day during this time of the year.

The Pymatuning reservoir was built mainly to control the water supply in this important industrial valley.

Seek Competitive
Bids On U. S. Bonds

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 25.—Indicating a boost in the public debt to $28,800,000,000 at the end of the fiscal year, June 30, Secretary Morgenthau today asked for competitive bids on $100,000,000 additional 3 percent bonds of the 1946-1948 series.

This is the second time since the war that bonds have been issued on a competitive basis. The plan is to boost the treasury balance which has dropped more than $200,000,000 in the last two months because of the gradual increase in government expenditures.

In May the treasury made its initial post-war offering of bonds on the competitive plan. The result on offering of $100,000,000 was subscriptions of $270,077,000, of which $98,779,000 was allocated. The average price of the bonds sold was 103 4-32.

AROUND
CITY HALL

Probabilities are that when the provisions of two bills, one designating the salary of the city treasurer and the other designating his duties, relative to collection of taxes, council, members of the school board and the county commissioners will meet and clear the decks so that the new city treasurer will know exactly what's what when he assumes office. Under the law he can be paid as low as $3,500 and as high as $5,000. The city shall furnish space, light and heat bills and for janitor service. Each of the parties concerned will bear an equal portion in expenses for stationary, postage and telephone service. The treasurer will name his clerical hire and the cost of this also will be borne equally by the three different parties concerned. In connection with this the city, it has been said, will have to work out a system whereby the council will know how much to appropriate when the 1936 budget is prepared.

Indications are that building this month will run close to April figures when $13,000 was expended for new building and remodeling. So far this month statistics at the city building show the outlay to have been about $12,000 with another week to go.

B. F. Butler, director of streets, today stated that purchase of the new grader for $1,900, proved an economical move. He declared four times as much work is being done compared to that done with the old grader which during three months of last year cost the city in repairs $351.00.

Day Camp To Open Soon At Cascade Park

Annual Girl Scout Day Camp To Be Conducted Three Days Each Week In July

COMPETENT GROUP OF LEADERS CHOSEN

Plans are about complete for the Girl Scout "day camp" which will be held at Cascade Park during the month of July on every Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday.

Girl Scouts from all troops of the city will assemble on these mornings at 9 o'clock sharp and will take part in a program which is very similar to the one followed at the regular camp at Kennedy's Mills. The purpose of the "day camp" is to bring the advantage of camp life to Girl Scouts who are unable to attend the regular camp.

A very competent group of leaders has been selected to take charge of the activities this year. Last night they met in Cascade Park with the day camp committee. Miss Margaret Toepfer, chairman and Miss Marjorie Wettich for a picnic supper, and a general round table discussion about the July plans.

MANY SENTENCES PASSED BY COURT

tence to date from February 1, when he was arrested. He admitted that he had been in trouble before, having been arrested for stealing from a railroad company and for operating a still in West Virginia. He served one year on the latter charge.

Gets Jail Term

Samuel Craig, for a violation of the firearms act, was fined $10 and costs and given thirty days to the county jail. From the plea made in his behalf it appeared that he had been drinking and had gone to the Lindsey home north of town and made some threats, which caused Mrs. Lindsey to make an information against him for surety of the peace. When the constable went after him he was found at the home of Harry Spiker. On searching him a revolver was found in his pocket. He claimed that he had changed clothes before leaving home and had put on a coat, having the gun in a pocket. He claimed that he did not know it was there. The surety of the peace case against him was dropped on account of a defect in the information. It was urged that he had always been a good citizen.

Placed On Probation

Steve Pasterick, charged with failing to give his name and address following an automobile accident, was placed on probation upon the payment of the costs in the case. It was shown that his father is dead, that he has a job and is helping his mother support a family.

Clem Crisc, who entered a plea to selling real estate without a license said that he had no intention of violating the law, and did not know that he had to have a license. He told about being in a bank and one of the employees had called to his attention a couple of properties they had for sale. He had sold them and received $25 each on them. He was sentenced to pay $50 and costs.

Drunken Driving

Joe Bodnar, for driving a car while under the influence of liquor, was fined $100 and costs and given 30 days to the county jail, dating from June 8. He lives in the Volant district and had gone to a dance near Mt. Jackson. After the dance, around midnight, some friends had given him some liquor. When he started home he took the wrong road, and instead of coming up through Mahoningtown, had landed in Wampum, where he ran his car into a lawn and Contable Talley got him. No damage was done.

Harold McKim, for making a false statement in securing the transfer of a motor license, was given a suspended sentence upon payment of costs. He said that he had no intention of doing wrong and that there had been a misunderstanding.

Andrew Semak, Charles Denko and Frank Naoshog, who were mixed up in some trouble at Ellwood City, were fined $10 each and costs.

Had Poor Memory

Thomas Miller, colored, charged with false pretense, in connection with a "dead wife" racket, seemed to have a very poor memory. He had secured $4 from an undertaker with which to send telegrams to relatives of his supposed dead wife. The undertaker was to go to Youngstown for the "remains," when the police picked Miller up. The $4 was returned. Asked by the court if he had ever been in trouble before he claimed that he had always lived a blameless life. He said that he was suffering from rupture and wanted the $4 to buy a truss. He had come here from Richmond, Va., the day before he visited the undertaker. It looked as though Miller might be telling the truth, until Willis McMullen, fingerprint artist for the police department, said that he had checked up at Washington, D. C., and had found that the department had 47 fingerprints of Miller, and that he was a regular racketeer in the "dead wife" business. He was given one year to the workhouse.

Pleas For Leniency

When Paul Morrison of Ellwood City came up for sentence on a drunken driving charge, a strong plea was made for leniency in his behalf. It was claimed that he had been doing RWD work, and that he had taken some drinks when the force had laid off during a rainstorm. He has always borne a good reputation. There was no accident. He was fined $100 and costs and given 30 days to jail.

Clyde McCombs, for operating a car after his license had been revoked, was paroled for two years upon payment of $25 and costs. William Nelson, on a paternity charge, was sentenced to pay $1 per week for six years, and $2 per week until the child is 15 years of age. Arnold Powell, operating a car without the consent of the owner, paroled for two years.

Given Parole

Frank Gorgacz who pleaded to two charges of larceny of relief checks was paroled for three years upon payment of costs, but was warned that if he came in again inside of three years he was sentencing himself to the penitentiary. James Byers, pleaded to a charge of breaking and entering. He was sentenced to three months to one year in the county jail.

Patsy Catala, who pleaded nolle contendere to a charge of involuntary manslaughter, was paroled for two years and fined $50 for the use of the county and the costs in the case. His story was that he was driving home from Pittsburgh with his wife and uncle, Sosta Matura, when the car went off the road near Energy, killing the uncle.

Frank Kochanski pleaded to a charge of failure to render assistance was fined $100 and costs and given three months in the county jail.

No Discretion

Louis Quadrano of Ellwood City pleaded to a charge of possessing liquor unlawfully. One-half pint of liquor was found in his place. Judge Hildebrand said in sentencing Quadrano, "the court has no discretion in this offense. The act is mandatory and you are fined $300 or six months in the county jail."

Teresa Mauri, a young woman who pleaded to a charge of shop lifting, was fined $1 and costs and given 30 days to a year in the county jail dating from May 24. Her mother, Felicia Mauri, who was convicted of receiving stolen goods, was fined $1 and sentenced to 30 days to one year in the county jail, dating from today.

Court recessed at 11:45 to reconvene at one o'clock.

Much Interest In Diphtheria Drive

Widespread interest has been aroused throughout the county relative to the Stamp Out Diphtheria Campaign now being conducted by the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross. An effort is being made to acquaint parents with the many advantages of having their children immunized between the ages of six months and six years. Statistics show that sixty percent of deaths from diphtheria occur between these ages. This dreadful disease can now be prevented by a simple and safe injection of diphtheria anti-toxin. All health forces of Lawrence County have mobilized under one banner to promote and bring to a successful conclusion this campaign of prevention. Consult your family physician.

Jack Young Says Dog Catching Is Slow Business

Although there are many dogs roaming the streets, some with and others without licenses, the dog catching business has become slow, either because the dog catcher, Jack Young, colored, is not in the same vicinity at the time the dog is there, or because dogs possess an intuition that warns of his coming.

Asked today if he is capturing many canines, he replied in the negative and when asked if it were a paying job he smiled then added that it is not as lucrative as some imagine. According to the dog catcher he waits for his fees from the state sometimes as long as several months.

When Young started on his dog catching this morning he was unaccompanied and armed only with a wire, at the end of which was a noose. His assistant, a small colored boy was not with him. Some months ago he took up an apprenticeship under Young to thoroughly learn the art of catching dogs without being bitten.

The police dog, which has been acting as another assistant was not with him today.

Oppose Merchant Marine Measure

Merchant Marine Bill Faces Opposition Upon Introduction Today

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 25—In the face of sharp opposition, the leaders today thrust the administration merchant marine bill before the house, with the hope of obtaining quick passage.

Chairman Blund (D) of Virginia, of the Merchant Marine committee, declared its immediate enactment is necessary to prevent possible disruption of the entire merchant marine.

The measure has been classed as one of President Roosevelt's "must" bills, but Speaker Byrns now classifies it as a measure which "ought" to be passed.

A revival of merchant shipbuilding, with replacement of a large part of the merchant fleet, was predicted by Blund if the measure becomes law.

Rep. Wearin (D) of Iowa, leading the fight against the bill, claims it fails to carry out Mr. Roosevelt's shipping policy.

Johnson declared today when asked for his decision on the offer of the federal relief dictatorship at New York City.

Johnson was to see President Roosevelt before leaving.

Feast Of Saint John Observed

Lodge Of Perfection Honors Memory Of St. John The Baptist Last Evening

BUTLER MEMBER DELIVERS ADDRESS

With members of the Lodge of Perfection and their Masonic friends in attendance, the Feast of St. John the Baptist, was observed with a program in The Cathedral last evening. The event was commemorated by all Lodges of Perfection in the state of Pennsylvania, the local lodge conforming to the custom.

Jacob W. Carr, of Butler, senior warden of the Valley of New Castle Council, Princes of Jerusalem, delivered a splendid address on the character of St. John, the Baptist, outlining the points which made him one of the greatest figures in the Bible.

He stressed the humility, self denial, and courage, of this great figure, and decried the lack of such men in the present age.

Preceding the service, which was in charge of Thrice Potent Master, George E. Waters, an organ recital was presented by Edwin Lewis, who gave the following numbers:

Prelude and Fugue in E Minor—Bach.

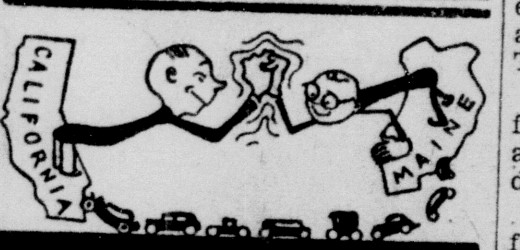

Madrigal—Jawelak.

Pastorale—Clokey.

Benedictus—Garth Edmundson.

Postlude "Toccata" (Suite Gothic)—Boellman.

Several lovely vocal numbers were given by Arthur Thomas, with Mr. Lewis at the organ, and Mrs. Lillian Buckner with Mrs. Anna Moore Pyle as accompanist.

Harvard Astronomers Report Discovery

"Island Universe" Partially Obscured By Milky Way Is Reported

(International News Service)
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 25.—An "island universe" consisting of a "swarm" of hundreds of millions of stars partially obscured by the milky way has been discovered by Harvard astronomers.

Dr. Harlow Shapley, director of the Harvard observatory, announced today the universe, less than a million light years from the earth, had been photographed from the Oak Ridge station.

Spiral arms attached to a "nebular nucleus" show great extension, Dr. Shapley said.

He described the body as being the island universe nearest to the earth, explained the late discovery was the result of "dark obscuring materials, possibly meteoric dust, in the interstellar spaces along the milky way" which cut down visibility.

First noted 40 years ago by W. F. Denning, English amateur observer, the body has not become known because of its obscure position. In angular dimensions the spiral is larger than the full moon.

St. Vitus Choir At Yatesboro, Pa.

As a tribute to the Rev. Fr. Joseph Farina, brother of the Rev. Fr. Albert Farina, assistant pastor of St. Vitus, and the Rev. Fr. Louis Farina of St. Anthony orphanage, Oakmont, Pa., the St. Vitus choir, under the direction of B. J. Biondi, sang the first mass celebrated by the newly ordained priest at the St. Mary's church, Yatesboro, Pa., on Sunday.

A number of New Castle residents attended the special exercises accorded the Rev. Fr. J. Farina. Following the mass out-of-town guests were tendered a delicious dinner. Benediction of the blessed sacrament at three o'clock, and a reception brought to a close the event. The arch abbot of St. Vincent College delivered two sermons, in Italian and in English.

Besides the 22 members of the choir, the following attended the exercises: Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso Scarazzo of Hazlet; Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeCarbo, Wilmington avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Angelo J. Casaccia of Leasure avenue; Peter P. Capicola, Leasure avenue; and Mr. and Mrs. James Cherol, Division street.

The junior chamber, following McKee's address, voted to continue the terms of its present officers until December 31, 1935, at which time the annual election will be held. Elected last February when the organization was launched, the officers were to have retired from their posts on July 1.

President D. D. Young will continue to head the group through the last half of the year. Members last night received their assignments for the chamber's new "goodwill visitation" of industries in Lawrence county. Various members will call upon industrial heads to impress upon them the junior chamber's interest in local industry and to seek their support in chamber undertakings.

A report was heard on the local delegation's visit to the Youngstown Junior Chamber of Commerce a short time ago, and it was announced that the organization has allied itself with the new Civic Club Officers' Roundtable.

During the business session President Young presided while Earle M. Brookover, chairman of programs, introduced Mr. McKee.

In a drawing which featured the meeting, Robert Weinberger, James Woodrow and Donald A. von prizes. A delicious lunch climaxed the evening's program.

The next meeting of the organization was announced for Monday, July 29.

Farewell Party For Dr. Palazzo

Wolves Club Honors Member Who Leaves Thursday For Tour Of Europe

Gathering in the Knights of St. Vitus club house Monday evening, members of the Wolves club staged a farewell party honoring Dr. John Palazzo, who together with his family, leaves on Thursday morning for an extended trip to Europe.

During the early hours of the evening the men enjoyed playing cards. Through the courtesy of Thomas "Leach" Pagley, the gathering witnessed two boxing bouts.

The evening was closed with serving of delicious refreshments by Frank C. Summers and Dominick Guidio. Following the light repast, President Angelo C. Casaccia, in a brief address, wished the honored guest a "bon voyage." At the request of President Casaccia, Dr. J. Prioletti presented Dr. Palazzo with a valuable gift, given by the Wolves club. Others who made short speeches were Frank C. Summers, Dr. Warren V. Massaro and David Valensi. Dr. Palazzo made an appropriate speech of appreciation.

The program held June 21-25 reaches a peak with the presentation of the pageant "What Shall I Render" to be given in the high school building.

Guffey-Snyder Coal Bill Is Under Attack

Illinois Counsel For Miners Union Says Bill Would Force Idleness

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 25.—Passage of the Guffey-Snyder coal bill, with its appropriation of $300,000,000 for government purchase of soft coal lands, may force thousands of miners in Southern Illinois into idleness, George Dowell, of Duquoin, Ill., counsel for the progressive miners union, told a house ways and means sub-committee today.

"The proposal is made in the bill for government purchase of coal lands to be held in reserve," said Dowell. "That means that the mechanized mines can eliminate the independent mines, where the miners work by hand."

Would Harm Many
"If you are going to buy up coal land in Illinois, as the bill permits, you are going to take the bigger part of the Southern portion of the state and some of the Eastern and Western portions."

"A great many miners would be thrown out of employment. It would mean subsistence farms and the dole for them."

Dowell and William Peck, president of the Progressive miners, supported the collective bargaining provisions of the Guffey-Snyder bill, but asserted that other section would nullify the right for the Progressive miners.

Under the bill, they asserted, District boards must contain a member from the preponderant national organization of workers, which is the United Mine Workers of America.

Could Set Wages
Peck asserted that under the bill the mechanized mines, with greater tonnage, could set the wages for the hand miners which employ the larger number of workers.

Questioned by Rep. Treadway (R) of Massachusetts, Dowell said the situation in Illinois is encouraging for continued cooperation between the union and employers.

He said that no labor trouble is in sight at the present time.

Murder-Suicide Writes Finis To "Love Triangle"

Man In Love With Sister-In-Law, Kills Father-In-Law Following Dispute

(International News Service)
PENNABURG, Pa., June 25.—Murder and suicide today had ended a long-standing feud between a father and a son-in-law over the younger sister.

Armed with two pistols, Lloyd Kuhns, 38-year-old father of three children, broke into the home of his father-in-law, Daniel Benfield, 60, and shot him to death. Then Kuhns pressed the gun to his head and fired a bullet into his own brain. Both men died instantly.

For more than a year, police said, Kuhns paid persistent court to his sister-in-law, Elma, 19. She repulsed his advances and once had him arrested for causing a disturbance in her home. He frequently threatened Benfield's life when the older man berated him for his conduct.

Files Suit For Court Decision On Finance Plan

Question Of Borrowing $50,000,000 For State Is To Be Taken To Court

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—On behalf of a taxpayer, former City Solicitor John F. Connelly today filed a bill in equity urging the state supreme court to restrain the state administration from borrowing $50,000,000 against current revenue.

The bill, filed against Auditor General Frank E. Baldwin, State Treasurer Charles A. Waters and the Security Bank Note Company, asks the court to take original jurisdiction in the case and declares the measure is unconstitutional.

In the closing days of the legislature, an act was passed to obtain funds during the coming year until new legislation begins to produce revenue. It gives the governor, the auditor general and the state treasurer the right to issue tax anticipation certificates in anticipation of receipt of taxes.

"The bill as filed raises a constitutional question, in that the legislature had not the right to pass such a law as it is incurring indebtedness in excess of $1,000,000, in violation of the state constitution," Connelly said in urging an early argument on the question.

Constitutionality of three other bills passed by the recently ended legislative session are also to be tested before the supreme court.

Scant Enthusiasm For Return Of Bar Is Shown In City

It's a materialistic age. A de-bunking age. An age that shows up for tinsel, some of the things of the past years that absence had surrounded with 24-carat plate.

Prinstance, the old time saloon bar with its brass rail and cuspidors and mustachioed bartenders.

It was the old time saloon you'll recall that was outlawed not alone by the dyes but by the wets. Figuratively placing their arms around each others shoulders in the style of a "Sweet Adeline" quartet, the dyes and the wets sang the same chorus, "we don't want the old time saloon back."

And now less than two years after repeal, we have the old time saloon back in Pennsylvania, the act restoring perpendicular drinking bringing back the old time bar. Showing what a jewel consistency is.

Just in order to find out how the new law was regarded by the gentlemen who purvey the amber suds in New Castle a trip was made through a number of the parlors and found that the halo that surrounded the bar and the brass rail during the years we didn't have them was largely a phoney.

One Lone Survivor

There is only one old time bar in New Castle and that is on West Washington street. Its there in all its pre-prohibition glory. Front bar, brass rail, cuspidors, back bar and all that sort of thing. It never went away but for fifteen years the bar was stored and the back bar gathered dust.

Here are some of the reactions from proprietors of restaurants and beer parlors in New Castle.

Number one. A place that caters to the middle class. "They certainly made a mess out of the liquor laws bringing back the old time bar. We don't want it. Women will be offended by it and it lowers the tone of the place. Only if we are forced to it by the necessity of competition will we reinstall a bar."

Number two: "I'm going to wait and see if the customers want it. I never did like 'Sweet Adeline' much anyway."

Number three: "Yes, we'll have a bar but the brass rail is out. As a matter of fact we took ours out before Lawrence county went dry, and they were on their way out all over the country."

Number four: "We'll probably maintain a small bar for the convenience of the customer who wants to shoot one in a hurry."

Number five: "It's all right, I guess. You can serve more customers in a given time at a bar than you can sitting down."

It was a revealing trip. After listening to the sagas of the old time bar, the tales of the bar-room quartets, of white aproned bartenders and convivial groups we rather imagined the bar would be welcomed back as a long lost brother.

Instead it is being welcomed back like a poor relation.

Mrs. Waley's Trial Starts On July 5

Date Is Set By Court Who Forced Woman To Plead
'Not Guilty'

(International News Service)
FEDERAL BUILDING, TACOMA, Wash., June 25.—Mrs. Margaret Waley, 19, will go to trial July 5 on charges of participation in the Weyerhaeuser kidnaping case, it was ruled Monday by Federal Judge E. E. Cushman, who last week forced her to plead "not guilty."

Neither Mrs. Waley, who is puzzled over Judge Cushman's refusal to accept her plea of guilty, nor John Dore, one of her attorneys, was in court.

Mrs. Waley will be brought to trial on the "Lindbergh law" indictment which charges that she conspired, aided and abetted Harmon Metz Waley, her husband, and William Mahan in the $200,000 abduction of little George Weyerhaeuser, timber empire heir, here on May 24.

Date for her trial on a second indictment charging extortion through the U. S. mails will be filed on July 5, Judge Cushman ruled. In the second indictment, only Mrs. Waley is a defendant. She is accused of mailing one of the ransom notes to J. P. Weyerhaeuser, father of the boy.

OIL CITY, Pa., June 25.—Declaring politics must be kept out of supervision of public health in Venango county, the Venango County Medical Society today withdrew its support from all public health clinics, as a result of peremptory dismissal "without just cause" of Miss Helena O'Hara, state public health nurse.

Miss O'Hara was public health nurse for 21 years. Doctors meanwhile will take care of the cases privately without charge. An appeal directly to Senator Joseph Gruffy was made today, in addition to those already filed with Governor Earle and Dr. Edith McBride-Dexter, state secretary of health.

Of 55 physicians belonging to the society all in Franklin and Oil City have signed the protest.

On Court House Hill

State auditors Donald Stalsey and John Carlisle are here auditing the County Treasurer's books of the mercantile tax, as prepared by Mercantile Appraiser, Edwin Reed. The mercantile tax amounts to about $45,000 a year.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard found that Anthony Carrigan, whom he brought back from Atlanta, Ga., had a very good record while in the Federal penitentiary. He was engaged in the tailoring department, and made suits for army officers.

In the estate of Walter Schuffert, the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company, guardian, was authorized to pay out $100 needed for a tonsil operation and to reimburse Mr. and Mrs. Scott Stunkard, with whom the boy, who is an orphan, makes his home.

In a petition presented to court, Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Wagner of Wilmington township, asked leave of court to adopt Carl Edward Stickle. The petition was granted, and the boy will hereafter be known as Carl Edward Wagner.

Register and Recorder William R. Hanna seems to be pretty well known to postoffice officials. Yesterday he received a large envelope in the mail with a picture of himself, cut from a campaign card, pasted on it, and underneath, "New Castle, Pa."

Under the will of the late Howard V. Thompson of New Wilmington his estate is left to a nephew, Clifford Vance, a niece, Elizabeth Vance, both of this city, the Board of Foreign Missions of the United Presbyterian church and the Board of American Missions of the United Presbyterian church. The niece and nephew are to get a third each and the other third goes to the missions. R. J. Totten of New Wilmington is named as executor.

Under the will of the late Charles Wilkison of Shenango township decedent left his property to his wife, for life. At her death it is to go to Marietta Wilkison, Louise Wilkison and Audrey Wilkison. Attorney H. A. Wilkison is named as executor.

While typewriters are used in the preparation of most legal documents this does not hold good in the case of wills. Some are written on typewriters, but the majority are in long hand, either in the handwriting of the maker, or in the handwriting of some friend who has written the will. Most of the wills are very short, especially where a decedent leaves his or her property to a wife or a husband. Wills must be witnessed by two persons, who must appear at the register and recorder's office to identify the signature when a will is probated.

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party. That is an old practice line every typist knows, but it expresses what is no doubt in the minds of the legislators who have at last finished up their long grind at Harrisburg. Politics will engage the attention of most of them during the balance of the summer. There will be county committee meetings, campaign parleys and general fence fixing between now and September.

An unusually large crowd of spectators filled the court room this forenoon during sentence court. Chief interest centered in the "numbers" cases. Everybody seems anxious to know what kind of sentences would be handed out.

Germany Gives Solemn Pledge

Promises Never Again To Engage In Unrestricted
Submarine Warfare

ANNOUNCEMENT IS MADE AT LONDON

By H. K. REYNOLDS
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

LONDON, June 25—Germany has given a solemn pledge never again to resort to unrestricted submarine warfare, Sir Bolton Eyres-Monsell, first lord of the admiralty, announced in the house of commons today.

His brief but dramatic pronouncement supplied the one missing link in the new Anglo-German rapprochement, based upon a permanent naval agreement giving the Reich a navy 35 per cent as large as that of Britain.

The first lord's declaration was not unexpected, as it had been generally believed that Britain extracted some promise of this sort from Germany when the Reich was granted a sliding submarine allotment permitting her, under certain circumstances, to attain parity within Britain in this particular branch of her fleet.

It was recalled that some weeks ago, when it became known Germany was building twelve 250-ton submarines, there was a storm of protest in this country.

The spectre of a new Reich submarine fleet caused great consternation here because of the heavy toll the imperial German navy's submarines took of British lives and shipping in the last war.

In addition, the British people have always feared another submarine blockade by Germany and this government's policy for many years was to discourage German submarine building.

Italians Start Leaving Homes

Italian Government Orders
Evacuation Of Residents
Of Somaliland

(International News Service)

ADDIS ABABA, June 25—Italian residents of the city of Harar, located in the mountains on a direct line between Addis Ababa, Ethiopian capital, and the border of Italian Somaliland, today prepared to evacuate upon orders of the Italian government.

The order for Italians to leave Ethiopia within ten days, revealed exclusively by International News Service yesterday, caused grave concern in foreign quarters, where Italy was believed preparing for possible armed conflict in the near future.

Alarm of foreigners here was reflected in the exodus of a number of women members of the families of American missionaries today. Several trains leaving Ethiopia today carried these women out of the zone of possible hostilities.

It was pointed out that Harar, a city of 60,000 population, would be in the direct line of activities if Italians were to march upon the Abyssinian capital from neighboring Italian Somaliland.

In addition to the actual "ordering" of the Italians of Harar to leave, Italians in Addis Ababa were "advised" by the Italian government to evacuate.

Gold Mine Strike Trouble In Alaska

(International News Service)
JUNEAU, Alaska, June 25—A petition to Washington, D. C., requesting United States troops from Chilkoot barracks be sent into Juneau was dispatched here today by the governor of Alaska.

The governor described the situation in the gold mine strike at the Alaska-Juneau mine as "uncontrollable."

He reported that at least one union picket was found to be carrying concealed weapons. Fifteen union pickets now are in jail on charges of "continued violence and inciting riots."

Four men were injured in an outbreak here yesterday when striking gold miners attempted to halt a march of non-union men to an employment agency of the Alaska-Juneau mine. Police used tear gas bombs and clubs to disperse the strikers.

Carnera-Louis Ready For Bout In Metropolis

Joe Louis Has Big Chance Tonight To Get To Top Of Fistic Ladder

CARNERA USES BRUTE STRENGTH

By HYPE IGEOE
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, June 25—Joe the giant killer stalks the "big un" at Yankee Stadium this night. Joe Louis, the amazing hitter from Detroit, will try to prove that he can drive his bullet fists through the almost impenetrable defense of huge Primo Carnera.

It should be, by the odds, the most thrilling ring spectacle of all time. By all odds, the massive Italian is the one who is on trial because if he drops before the cannoning of the sleek Detroit brown boy Carnera will come tumbling down in a frightful crash from the golden heights sought by every big fighter in the world.

To lose would mean that Carnera must begin all over again and right now few men in the world have a better right to fight for the world's heavyweight championship. It's the dispute which Joe and Primo must settle.

Lots Of Betting
Thousands of dollars will be carried into the ring on the Italian's broad shoulders, hard-earned, some easy-come, most of it the coin of gambling demons, all wagered there his astounding size will stand him in good stead against the blinding hitting of the soft spoken boy from Detroit. That is the dainty fistic dish which the 20th Century club, Mike Jacobs and the milk fund, will set before the fans.

Followers of Carnera are pinning their faith to the premise that his super-man bulk will be a millstone the kid from Detroit won't be able to tote. Many of Joe's friends are betting that he will win with a quick knockout, or are prepared to hedge, backing Primo to win on points at the end of the 15 round route.

I pick Louis to knock out the giant, despite all the chatter about his long left or his bear-like strength. I think that the first of his every-day boxing mistakes which the big fellow will make to night will find him sprawling on the floor. It might end in the first, might go three, but not past the sixth.

Plans Attack
Primo did make these mistakes in training, has made them before, the most glaring one being his tendency to run at his man with a right lead, the horror of all old timers who study boxing from tooth to nail.

The other day I asked Joe what he would do if Primo came at him with both arms outstretched for a general bunny hug.

"He wouldn't be able to grab for me with his hands held together like this," and Louis held his own two arms extended in front of himself, but with his fists four or five inches apart.

"He would have to reach out like this—arms far apart, just like he was going to put his arms around the trunk of a tree, wouldn't he? Well, I'd be inside working on his ribs and heart the first time he did it, and I'd dress him up for a left hook that would put him down.

Remember Dempsey
"He won't be getting up as often as he did with the other boys. I'll see to that."

So much for Joe Louis' opinion of what he will do if Primo tries to make his great hugging strength count. We will move on to the argument that that giant's bulk will be too much for Joe to carry around and that he will tire.

Dempsey was a 183-pounder at Toledo against Willard, larger than Primo in every respect and a far harder hitter.

Unions Again Defeat Rads

Frank Babs Outpitches "Cannonball" Bishara In 3 To 1 Victory, 3,000 See Game

RADIATORS ARE HANDED SURPRISE

Unions again had the "jinx" working and Manager Texie Richards and his fighting mates took a 3 to 1 victory over the two-year champions Radiators at B. & O. Field last night that left Manager Howard Reed and his Radiator makers bewildered. It was Frankie Babs, the Union ace pitcher who stole the show from "Cannonball" Bishara allowing the Rads but five scratch hits. A crowd of 3,000 was the biggest that ever witnessed a soft ball game in this city.

The Unionites had their batting eyes working and hammered the speed ball thrown by Bishara for nine hits. Summers and Texie Richards patted out doubles and Norm Bishara did the same thing for the Rads.

The Brewers scored one run in the first inning and, once again in the fourth, with their last run coming in the last of the eighth.

Texie Richards, Vigil and Scarnati had two hits apiece for the Unions. Babs also had two hits. Outside of two errors by Vigil the Unions played errorless ball. C. Ross, Fornatore, E. Lockley and Bishara had the hits for the Rads. Greene had the only two errors chalked up for the Rads.

Summers Stars
It was the 12th league victory for the Unions against four defeats. It was this same Frankie Babs who turned the Rads back at Centennial Field in the first game of the year. The game was very well handled by "Bat" Parker and Bert Evans.

Chuck Summers drove in the first run in the first inning with a scorching two bagger that scored Turco from first. Babs pitched a shutout until the ninth when Bishara walked and scored on a single by El Lockley. Nick Biondi played a bang game for the Brewers at first base. Summers and Biondi pulled a sensational double play of a hard hit liner.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Lou Brady, the well known local judge of boxers, is picking Primo Carnera to defeat Joe Louis when the heavies swap punches in New York City tonight. He bases his opinion on the fact that the best man Louis has boxed was Patsy Peroni and he was upright at the end of the fight, although he took a lacing. Insofar as Hans Birke is concerned Lou passes up that fight with the assertion that Birke never went places, which is true. But Tom Kennedy, who picked Bradlock to win, picks Louis to win tonight. Having gone wrong on the Baer-Bradlock fight it may seem somewhat hazardous for us to favor Louis. In their first fight Jack Sharkey outboxed Carnera and as Louis is reported to be a masterful boxer were pinning to the belief that boy from Detroit will come through. He will be handicapped 60 pounds in weight. Carnera is not a smart fighter but Louis is reported by westerners to be very cagey. The fight will not be broadcast.

Jimmie Vessella, the statistician of the Lawrence County Baseball league, has many worries among them being postponed games. In fact they're almost as numerous as fleas on a long haired dog. Every time he arranged for a postponed game to be played off last week J. Fly belched and the game had to be called off a second time. Jimmie has intimated that President Alec Samuels should extend the first half of the season, otherwise the first half will not be completed.

Million, Abraham, Ruha and Timpolio also hit the ball hard. The Opening boys will play the Boxing Room Wednesday at South Hill field Friday night.

Alexander Hurls No Run, No Hit Game

Sixth Ward Fire Department Team Blanks Colonial A. C. 6 To 0

Arthur Alexander was in rare form last night as he pitched the Sixth Ward Fire Department to a perfect no-hit no-run game over the Colonial A. C. on Colonial field. The score ended in a six to nothing triumph for the sixth warders. Alexander did not allow a man to reach first base. Inning after inning, he retired them in order. Only twenty-one men faced the offerings of Alexander. Thirteen men whiffed the gentle breezes before his tantalizing slants.

The sixth ward team played errorless ball behind his superb pitching. C. Jackson thrilled the fans by making a one-handed catch of a hard line drive.

Babe Ruth May Manage Indians

Walter Johnson On Way Out As Pilot At Cleveland, Yanks Take Another

PAUL DEAN IS POUNDED HARD

By PAT ROBINSON
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, June 25—Babe Ruth—remember him?—is keeping his sails trimmed to the baseball breezes today.

The bambino is in close touch with the major league situation everywhere and it is no secret that he hopes to land a job as manager of Cleveland when and if Walter Johnson decides to quit.

Nothing seems surer than Johnson's exit from the baseball scene if he fails to win this year. The Babe realizes that fact. He also is well aware that Cleveland is the one major league spot where he has a chance to land.

Likes Cleveland
It is not a mere whim which is sending him to Cleveland for the all-star game July 8. While there he will make a few soundings in the baseball waters.

Rajah Hornsby has said repeatedly the Indians should walk in with the pennant. Bill Terry, manager of the Giants, is reported to have said he doesn't see how the Indians can miss "with a $40,000 ball player at every position."

Therefore, it would appear Sir Walter is on the spot. And Ruth has his eye on any available vacancy.

The Indians have been stepping along briskly of late but they ran into a snag yesterday in the person of Vic Tammis, the young Yank southpaw who turned in his third victory over them this season. Thornton Lee, was the victim in a 4-1 beating.

The Giants proved they were human after all by blowing a four run lead going into the ninth and losing out in the tenth, 10-9, on a pinch hit by Frank Demaree of the Cubs.

The Cards made 18 hits in trouncing the Dodgers, who made 13, twelve to 7. A seven run uprising in the seventh won for the Cards. Daffy Dean, who seems to have lost the hop on his fast one was routed before retiring a man in the first stanza in which the Dodgers put over five runs.

Hearing Called At "Y" Friday To Settle Dispute

League Officials Order Hearing On Ruling By Umpire Wilson At Radiator Field

When Umpire Wilson halted a soft ball game at the Radiator field Sunday afternoon and awarded the game to the Rads over the Davis team, it raised a hornets nest of protests and loud arguments. Commissioner Arnold "Fiz" Fraser today called a hearing at the "Y" Friday night at 8:30 o'clock to settle the case.

It seems that pitcher L. Nimmo of the Davis team had a piece of resin in his pocket and Umpire Wilson having discovered the resin gave the game to the Rads. There is a mixed opinion as to whether or not Umpire Wilson had a right to award this game to the Rads.

There is also an argument in the second game with the Capitolas that was settled by Umpire Wilson giving the game to the Rads. It is likely that a hearing on this case will also take place.

President Walther wants the following to attend the meeting: Umpire Wilson, Commissioners—Fraser, Buckingham and Conti, Secretary Michael "Jake" Babovsky, Managers Reed, Lutz and Bolsinger of the Radiators, Manager Stradbaugh and L. Nimmo of the Davis. Umpire—Howard Smith.

VAN FOSSAN PROTESTS
Keith VanFossan, manager of the St. Andrews team, has joined the parade of protesters of the recent game at the Radiator Field Sunday. Van Fossan contends that Umpire Wilson did not have the right to award the game to the Rads. Hundreds of verbal protests have been listened to by league officials since the playing of the game.

Helen Hicks Is Tourney Leader

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 25.—Helen Hicks, the business-woman golfer of Siwanoy, N. Y., led a field of thirty-two to the first tee at Sunset Ridge country club today as medalist in the women's western open golf championship.

She turned in a 79, one over women's par and eight above par for men, yesterday. Three strokes behind her was Ellamae Williams of River Forest.

Mildred ("Babe") Didrikson, the all-around girl athlete from Texas and only other business-woman golfer in the tournament made good for a large gallery with the next best score, carding an 83.

DIAMOND DUST

GOOD HURLING

Percis turned in a fine pitching performance for Bessemer against Ryantown Saturday and had it not been for Herno's single he would have lodged in the local hall of baseball fame with a no run, no hit game. Carey although outpitched by Percis also hurled good baseball. He allowed only five hits and his Ryantown teammates made two errors behind him.

MAJOCHA-NELSON TIE

Majocha and Nelson also put forth their best brand and bore down throughout the West Pittsburgh-Castletown game which was two to one by West Pittsburgh. It was fortunate for West Pittsburgh they got their two runs in the third because Castletown played snappy ball behind Nelson and they were held scoreless. Each pitcher fanned three and allowed four hits. Only two errors were made.

GIBBONS TO REPORT

Umpire Gibbons who had charge of the Ryantown-Mahoning baseball game recently has been asked to communicate with Ed Fritz so that the board of commissioners can obtain the low-down as to what transpired when Mahoning alleges Ryantown walked off the field. The versions put forth by managers of both teams varies and the umpire will be asked to clarify the situation.

ACCEPTS 16 CHANCES

Soho had a perfect day at the first base when the A. S. & T. P. met Bessemer. He accepted 16 chances without an error. In addition he made a hit and scored a run. Nord scored once, had no hits but took a dozen chances perfectly. Werhnyak, shortstop and W. Puromaki, left fielder for Bessemer, each got a pair of safe blows.

HAS GOOD DAY

Kwik handled his position nicely at shortstop when Ryantown beat Wampum. He made four putouts and had two assists. In addition he made three hits, scored two runs and would have had a perfect day had it not been for one error. Hartman, third baseman for Ryantown came through with three hits.

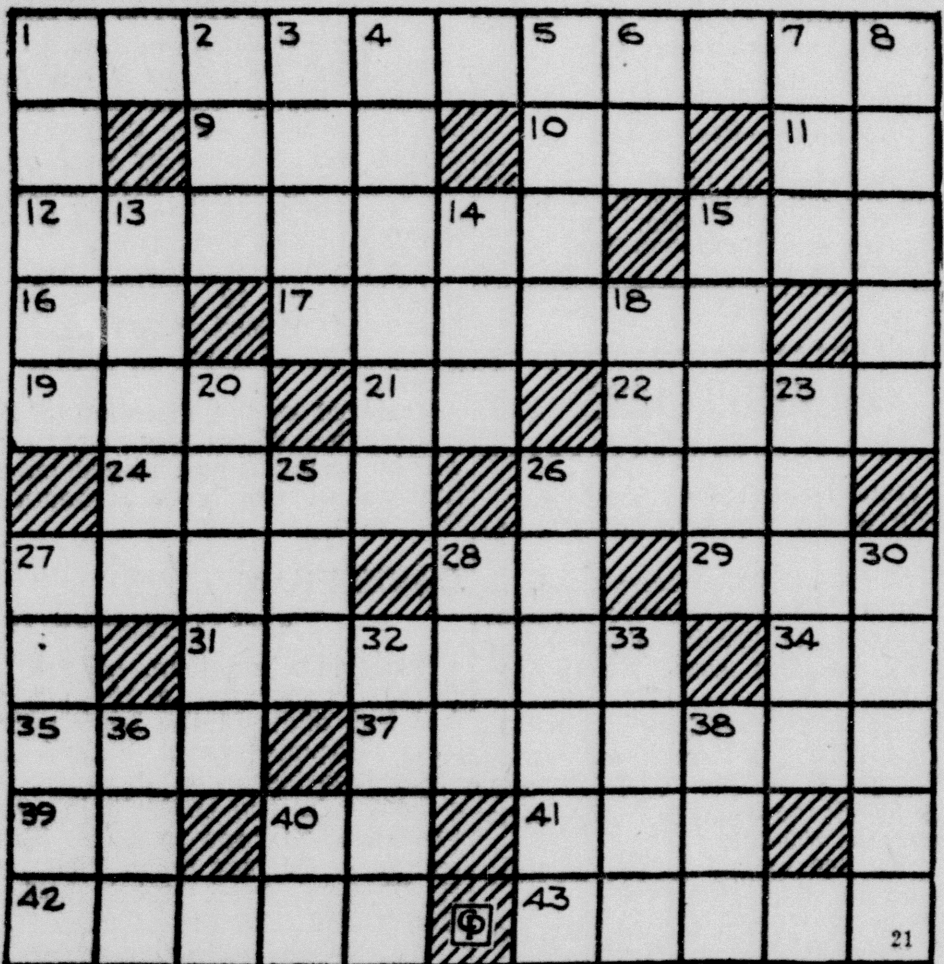

COSTLY WILDNESS

Blews got away to a very bad start in the game Sunday between Castletown and Ellwood City and before the first two frames were completed eight runs had been chased across the plate. Van Eman relieved Blews and pitched good ball but the lead made Ellwood City an easy winner.

Stock Market
Is Depressed

Overnight News of Roosevelt's "Soak-the-Rich" Taxes Affects Market

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, June 25.—The stock market was depressed today by the overnight news of President Roosevelt's decision to press his "soak-the-rich" taxes through the present session of congress.

Losses running to more than 2 points were quickly scored in a flurry of selling in the early dealings. Support appeared on the reaction and some recovery was made as the session wore on but the market displayed a nervous tone. Trading turned dull after the opening activity.

The heaviest pressure was on the utilities, motors and blue chips, which had scored the biggest gains in the rise. American Can lost over 2 points. Chrysler was down a point and General Motors was heavily sold but gave a stubborn performance, limiting its loss to a fraction.

Commodities gave further ground, led by silver and grains. Bonds were unsettled and the dollar recovered a bit after yesterday's sharp decline. Bullish sentiment on the utilities was chilled by Washington dispatches forecasting a bitter fight on the floor of the house to restore the "death sentence" in the holding company bill. Power shares were freely sold and suffered losses running to a point but steadied later.

Rails sagged with the rest of the list but showed little pressure and declines were small. U. S. Steel sold down to 33, off nearly a point, and then came back fractionally.

U. S. Smelting was down further in the silvers, losing over a point, while the other mining shares worked lower.

There was some independent strength in specialties, particularly Midland Steel products and the refrigerator issues. Gains ran to over a point. The foods were firm and tobacco steady. Radio preferred B was in demand.

Standard of New Jersey lost nearly a point in the oils. DuPont fell over a point and the other chemicals were heavy. Farm implements were lower with the rest.

Volant College Alumni Groups Meet Wednesday

Annual Reunion And Home-Coming For Volant College And Community Planned

EXPECT LARGEST CROWD THIS YEAR

After several weeks of intensive preparation, plans have been completed by the committee and officers of the Volant College Association for their 25th annual reunion, which will take place on the old college campus at Volant, Wednesday, June 26, and the committee is more than gratified to note the interest which is being taken in the coming event this year.

The committee has not only received many responses from those at a distance, stating that they will be present for the gathering this week, but they have also received many letters and telegrams from those unable to attend, expressing their regrets and asking to be remembered.

Mrs. Scott Hamilton, corresponding secretary, who was the originator of the idea of holding these reunions in honor of the faculty of the school, states that she has never received as many responses as this year.

President Homer C. Drake and vice president, Dr. Thomas George, of Cleveland, have been working hard for the success of the reunion and indications point to a large attendance this year.

The Volant College reunion was originated 25 years ago when a group from the old college met in the office of the late Attorney A. Martin Graham here in New Castle and elected Mr. Graham president. Since that time, the reunion has grown in interest and now includes a Home Coming Day for the residents of the Volant Community who have entered willingly into the spirit of the occasion.

Parents Crushed By Accusations Against Daughter

Bentleyville Miner Folks Do Not Believe Girl Guilty Of
New York Crime

(International News Service)

BENTLEYVILLE, Pa., June 25.—Mr. and Mrs. John Kisiday, of the quiet little mine town of Ellsworth, near here, were just peaceful folks looking admiringly after their daughter Dorothy when she set out for New York three years ago, promising she'd get a job, perhaps send some money home.

Today the Kisidays faced the gravest tragedy of their lives and daughter Dorothy, aged 20, faced a charge of first degree manslaughter.

Kisiday is a hardy miner, but he wept when told of his daughter's arrest by Nassau county authorities in the death of John L. Burness, 30-year-old Long Island sportsman and broker.

Kisiday wanted to believe the story of Dr. Howard McNeill, medical examiner for Nassau county, who insisted there was no wound on Burness' body sufficient to have caused even unconsciousness.

He wanted to see his daughter and ask her why she told authorities she hit Burness with a hammer. He wanted to ask her why she claimed she placed the body in an automobile, and left it in her employer's garage nearby, the motor running. Dorothy declared Burness promised her $5 then refused to give it to her. Her father wanted to talk to her about that.

He wanted to talk with Dorothy's friend Irene Brozovic, aged 19, of Brier Hill, near Uniontown, held as a material witness.

But the Kisidays may not be able to afford the trip to New York. And the father may have to wait.

Sons Of Veterans Enjoy Picnic

Last night in Cascade Park, K. Company, Sons of Union Veterans held their first picnic of the season. The members gathered in the Park at about seven o'clock, and promptly at 7:30 began to eat. Mrs. Mary Meyer was in charge of serving, with the girls of the medical unit assisting her.

Following the dinner the participants proceeded up into the park and enjoyed themselves on the rides and at a later hour adjourned to the dance pavilion where the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. There were about thirty persons present at the dinner, and several additional ones came out later.

Captain Partridge announced that the next drill meeting of the Company will be held Tuesday evening July 2, at 7:30 on the third floor of the City Hall. If weather permits outdoor drilling will undoubtedly take place.

PHALANX WILL CONVENE
Members of the Phalanx fraternity will convene for a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday evening, June 26 at 7:30 o'clock.

DISCUSSES RELIEF REPORT

Editor New Castle News.

This is the open season for criticizing the administration of relief. The report of the joint legislative committee in Friday's News points out that the worst feature is that the administration of relief has to a large extent passed into the hands of "professional social workers" who do the job in their own way, and that a "large measure of free play is given to the social influence (sic) in the whole administration of relief." I wonder if the investigators found that architects design houses, dentists fix teeth and that professional politicians still retain the offices and run the state?

We are told the attitude of the professional social worker too often encourages the relief workers to assume a position of dependence on the state. Upon whom should they lean, pray? On relatives and friends? Or should the unemployed more alertly search for the fewer occasional jobs? Who made this depression, anyway? The workers? Or was it our brainy legislators, the capitalists and the industrialists? Because many of the social workers "have been salaried men and women they do not have the viewpoint of the taxpayer who conducts a business with great difficulty to avoid insolvency or who only by the most strenuous efforts is able to save himself and family from going on the relief rolls." Waiving the question whether going on salary robs one of that right point of view, would like to ask the investigators whether they think it is possible for any one to escape the relief rolls by "strenuous efforts" when his or her time will have come!

The committee desires to improve the lot of those on relief, but see that "the danger today from the enormous increase in the cost of relief is that the mode of society will be precipitated into the same run so that the standard of all will be eventually lowered." And the committee ingeniously states that the best solution at this time is to grant that which will "reasonably" support them so as "to take away from the overburdened taxpayers as little as possible." Well, committee, if you do not want to help precipitate the whole of society into the contemplated ruin you had best stop intimating that the amount of relief given to the unemployed be cut down to where they are "reasonably" supported. And, committee, we have not started to tax yet; wait until we go to balancing budgets instead of borrowing; wait until the small business men and farmers and the workers decide to throw the weight of the crisis from their backs.

Many of those on relief complain against "the educational qualifications which prevented many of them from being given jobs in the administration of relief." And the committee derides the stress placed on "social training qualifications" which, apparently, differ from "sound judgment in business and family affairs," and this "is more important than a course in college"; consequently they feel "that a policy should be adopted for the administration of relief on a basis of sound common sense rather than on a social basis."

Here we have the old kick against book "learning." And I suppose it will have to be gone into—again and again. But why or where do social qualifications differ from sound judgment in business and family affairs? My dictionary defines "social" as "pertaining to society; relating to men living in society or to the public as an aggregate body." It appears to me that this is the "basis" to work from. And when we talk of common sense, we talk about a most uncommon thing; it's the sense common to the very few, the thinkers. The legislators undoubtedly believe that they presented a sensible report; but to me their findings are disjointed and senseless. For what would be the advantage if the "professional social workers" were displaced by a "common sense" variety? Would the unemployed then be more amenable to accepting the "minimum of relief that will reasonably support" them?

Summed up, their attitude and behavior in this investigation shapes up perfectly with the big vote in the House of Representatives to increase their "salaries" $500 per regular session. This "increase" is much more than the average couple on state relief get to live on for a year.

New Orleans Garbage Collectors On Strike

(International News Service)

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 25.—The tangled web of Louisiana politics assumed a more difficult aspect today as garbage collectors went on strike despite the threat that other men on the FERA relief would be called in to collect the city's refuse.

This morning as final appeals were made to them, the 250-odd workers flatly refused to return to work unless full pay be restored to them. Demand of full pay, originally asked last week, was an even stronger factor with the men today in view of their belief that if Mayor T. Semmes Wainwright would resign they would be paid from state funds made available by Sen. Huey P. Long.

Heavy Guard Is Placed Around Jail

(International News Service)

PATERSON, N. J., June 25.—Bristling with machine guns, rifles and shotguns, a police cordon was thrown about police headquarters today and extra officers posted on roofs of nearby buildings, following receipt of a telephoned tip that an underworld attempt was to be made to liberate eight mobsters seized in a raid on a Mountain View bungalow early Sunday.

Police Chief John Murphy, who declined to reveal identity of the tipster who reported the plot, ordered extraordinary precautions to guard against any "rescue" by pals of the imprisoned men.

FORECAST GARMENT STRIKE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 25.—A general strike of 40,000 workers in the garment industry loomed today as a result of a joint action by the International Ladies Garment Workers union and the Allied Cloak and Suit Workers organization last night.

A resolution advocating a general strike was passed by the executive boards of 11 union locals in the garment trade.

It now remains for the strike motion to be put to a referendum vote of the union memberships.

GREAT Midsummer Sale

Values up to 49c yard

Due to the unseasonable weather during the spring and early summer, the sale of cotton fabric was not as large as anticipated by the manufacturers. Therefore, they were willing to sacrifice their overstock at great reductions. They needed the money—we had it—and were able to secure thousands of yards of the season's most popular fabrics at a low price. Regardless of their former value, all are priced in this sale at 28c yard.
